Before it could be transported to the United States, a site had to be found for it and a pedestal had to be built. The site chosen was an island at the entrance of the New York Harbour. By 1884, a statue which was 151 feet tall had been erected in Paris. The following year, it was taken to pieces and sent to America. By the end of October 1886, the statue had been put together again and it was officially presented to the American people by Bartholdi. People might be discouraged from reading your messages. Hence be chatty and informal. Let your spelling, grammar and punctuation be reasonably correct. You can be sure your readers will notice errors. Make sure there is a line space between each paragraph for clarity. Do not use underlining – underlining might look like a hyperlink to a website. Ensure that you have attached any files you want to send as attachments. Click 'Send' after checking your message thoroughly. Remember to check if you are sending the mail to the right person.
